By my authorized signature below, I am hiring MovieStuff, LLC to custom build the above ordered equipment. Any discounts or expected delivery times may be unique to my order and such information shall be kept confidential at all times by me and/or my assigns. Failure to do so and/or posting publicly on the internet may jeopardize existing discounts, delivery times, and future customer service. I understand that all sales are final, order cancellations are not allowed, and that delivery times can potentially take longer than any provided estimates. As such, I agree to wait for the final delivery of this order and will not seek cancellation of this order, in whole or in part, at any time. I also recognize that "delayed delivery" does not, in any way, constitute "non-delivery" and that MovieStuff, LLC does not issue refunds under any condition except inability to deliver ordered items. Should MovieStuff, LLC find it impossible to ever complete this order, I understand a refund will be issued via check if it is a domestic order and a wire transfer if it is an international order. If any part of this order was paid for with a credit card I agree to not initiate, nor allow someone to initiate, a charge back on that card against this order at any time. In the event of such charge back, either accidental or intentional, I hereby authorize MovieStuff, LLC to re-charge the same credit card again under same conditions but forfeit of any discount pricing related to my order as well as my current place in the production schedule.

I have read the above and agree with the conditions stated. _____
